3DY4 Project Contributions

We all agree that the contribution list is the truth and that we all share the same stance on the following information.

All 4 of the group mates used our previously completed labs and feedback to work on Mono mode 0, and completed it together. We also worked together to complete the stereo modelling so that we had a strong understanding in what was expected for both aspects.

Upon completion, Haseeb and Taimur branched off to complete the rest of the Stereo audio portion of the project. At the same time, Ayaan and Azaan worked on Mono modes 1, 2, and 3 and completed the bench tests.

We both finished roughly around the same time and began working to complete the RDS modelling and C++ refactoring together. We continued to optimize the code and tested the code up until the end of the project deadline.

We consistently worked outside of the lab using the equipment to test our work, and worked in-lab closer to the end of the project deadline to ensure everything was acceptable prior to submission.
